

Training Road Map

Myriad Technologies is the leader in SharePoint Training and is proud to announce that our courseware is now available to the public. These courses provide a winning combination of leading edge courseware with our Instructors passion and enthusiasm for SharePoint.

Learning SharePoint by yourself can be a very daunting process which also presents a number of tricks and traps that can divert your learning and distract you from achieving your goal of creating SharePoint Solutions that support your business.

With these challenges in mind Myriad Technologies has developed a training road map to help you get up and running as soon as possible.

This road map is made up of a number of one day courses that dove tail together to provide you with an integrated learning pathway.

To allow you to progress through the road map at your own pace. These one day courses can be scheduled for private or public classes which can be incorporated into your busy schedule. This ensures you don't need to spend weeks away from work and you have time to apply what you learn.

SharePoint Site Members

The Site Members Course is your first step on the road map. This course will provide you with an introduction to navigating and searching SharePoint. Once you have become comfortable with these tasks you will explore how information can be stored in SharePoint Lists & Libraries. At the completion of the first day you will be confident to participate as a Site Member who can contribute and manage your own content in a SharePoint Site.

SharePoint Site Owners

The Site Owners Course will help you understand SharePoint Site Ownership and what it means to be empowered with the management of a Site Structure and security. This course will provide you with the skills manage a SharePoint Site which will reduce your dependency on your IT department and allow you to manage the security and configuration of your own SharePoint Site. At the completion of the second day you will be empowered to manage your own site to enable your team to help manage the site content.

InfoPath

The InfoPath Course is your third step on the road map. This course will walk you through the process of creating truly electronic forms through InfoPath. With the ability to create electronic forms you will find a myriad of opportunities to streamline your business processes. At the completion of the third day you will be ready to start creating electronic forms that can support your own business processes. After attending this course you will realise the huge potential that InfoPath provides to capture and manage your organisation's electronic forms.

Nintex Workflows

The Nintex Workflow Course is your final step on the road map to SharePoint enlightenment. This course will provide you with the skills required to convert your organisations business processes into SharePoint Workflows. This course will provide you with working examples of various business processes which can be automated and streamlined as workflows. These techniques can then be applied to your own business processes. You will also explore how electronic dashboards can be used to provide you with visibility into your business processes. With this level of visibility into your business processes you will see the unique opportunity that workflow provides many organisations to monitor and optimise their business processes . At the completion of the fourth day you will be equipped with the skills to create workflows to support your current business processes and dashboards to provide visibility into these processes so you can start to envision the future workflows that will support your business processes as your business grows.
